"Government is to be congratulated on the very handsome surplus over last year's budget estimates It was a wise measure on the part of the Dewan to use three lakhs of it in completing the payments on account of the Indian Institute of Science

"As regards this year's budget I am obliged to the Dewan and Council for the care that they have devoted to its preparation and for the several useful and progressive measures that they have included in their proposals Among those which are particularly gratifying to myself, I may note the following items of expenditure - Increase of pay to school-masters, (1) development and equipment of the Sanitary Department, (2) Development and equipment of minor scientific Departments, (3) provision for building the Chamarajendra Technical ~~Institute~~ Institute, (4) and abolition of fees for primary education (5) I trust that next year it may be possible to spend more on Village and Taluk School buildings and to make some provision for the housing of Hospital Assistants"

27 What is the connection between the proposal to raise the minimum of school masters pay to Rs 10/- and the introduction of free primary education into the State? Do the school masters benefit in any way from the fees charged to pupil and is the increase being granted on the understanding that no fees will be charged? What is the reform or improvement for which it is proposed to pay this heavy price? Is a higher minimum standard of qualification to be laid down along with the higher minimum of pay?

28 The proposed increase of expenditure is large and may embarrass our finances in future At the same time educational reforms are of vital importance and it is worth our while to strain every nerve to finance measures of educational reform and progress. It is for this reason that I require information on the points referred to above.

29 Considering what has been done recently & is still being done in British India & Elsewhere in the matter of educational advancement of the people & the large amounts spent on measures connected therewith it is but natural that Mysore should also considerably increase its educational expenditure But our normal recurring expenditure processes so tightly against the available normal revenue that we are bound to weigh very carefully the advancement as a form secured against the estimated cost thereof before imposing a lay of permanent burden on our, JSL 28 7 08

(1) There is no Connexion between the proposal to raise the minimum pay to Rs. 10 and the introduction of free primary Education They two are independent measures But possibly when primary Education is free, there may be need to employ more School masters as the No of boys and girls seeking such Education may appreciably increase

(2) No The School masters receive their entire pay directly from Govt funds or the Village School fund and no portion of the fees is appropriated by them — In private Schools fees form the remuneration of masters The reforms under Consideration Concern only Govt + Village

3) As the present rate of pay is inadequate, it seems to have been proposed to raise the rate to Rs 10-

31 The rates of pay of primary School teachers in Madras vary from Rs 5 to Rs 20 - Please see page 137 of the Civil Estimates.

Initials 28/7/8

32 The proposed large increase of expenditure on primary education is not the price of any important step taken in the matter of spreading education but is for improving the pay of the teachers only. The minimum of a primary school masters pay was Rs 5 in the province only a few years ago. It has now been raised to Rs 8/- and the proposal is to raise it to Rs 10/- alone. In Madras, the minimum is still Rs 5/- It is doubtful whether School masters in any other Province are so fortunate. In my opinion the increase could well have been spread over a number of years as our revenues gradually expanded without causing any serious disappointment to the teachers concerned. Increase of Educational expenditure for introducing free or compulsory Education by opening new schools is on a footing wholly different from expenditure of the nature now under consideration. Such increased expenditure benefits the whole population directly & at once, while increase of expenditure like this affects only a very small class and the effect on the people generally if any is indirect and remote

3. I would therefore respectfully urge a reconsideration of the matter. It is not likely that all teachers nearly two thousand in number are equally deserving of increase of pay. We may raise the pay of all teachers drawing Rs 9/- pm to Rs 10/- at once. Of those foreman drawing Rs 8/- ten percent may be raised to Rs 10/- each year the proposed reform being thus spread over a period of 10 years.

39 Provision has been made in the current year's budget for raising the pay of Village School masters to a minimum of Rs 10. The draft order on the subject having been sent to the Financial Branch, the Financial Secretary has in his note dated 26th July 1908 made a re-consideration of the matter and suggested that the pay of all teachers drawing Rs 8 may be raised to Rs 10 at once, and that, of those drawing Rs 9, the pay of ten per cent may be raised to Rs 10 every year so that the proposed reform may be spread over a period of 10 years.

40 I submit the Financial Secretary's proposals for His Highness' consideration and orders. I would in this connection invite a reference to His Highness' order dated 18th June 1908 on the file relating to the abolition of fees in Village Schools. His Highness was pleased to remark that the raising of the pay of school masters to the Rs 10 minimum was a "measure urgently needed".

41 Both the Councillors are of opinion, and I agree with them, that the draft order raising the pay to Rs 10 may be issued.

42 The Financial Secretary was perfectly justified in raising this question and the situation has not been clearly explained to him in the Secretariat notes The situation is a simple one I have long felt that good work cannot be expected from school masters receiving less than a living wage, a wage less, in many cases, than that paid to menial servants It is my belief that the cause of primary education suffers more from the failure of the masters under the circumstances to give their best energies to their work than from the inability or disinclination of the unedu-uneducated classes to pay fees for the education of their children I considered therefore that the improvement of the school-masters' position should precede the grant of free education in all primary classes and I stipulated that the latter measure should be contingent on the former being also within the means of Government. I was assured that such was the case and sanctioned both measures accordingly The order must stand

Sir

I have the honour to inform you that in my letter No 7134/482 dated the 4th March 1908 I proposed that the minimum limit of pay of all school masters in State Fund and Village Fund Schools might be raised to Rs 9/ and that all school masters now in receipt of Rs 8/ & Rs 9/- might be given an increase of pay of one rupee each In modification of the proposals contained in the letter quoted above, I beg to recommend that the minimum limit of pay of all School masters may be raised once for all to Rs 10/ a month, so that the poorly paid teachers may derive immediately the full benefit of the kind intentions of Government to improve their Condition as expressed in para II of their order No. 2715-6 / Edn 25-9-06-4 of 23rd September 1907. Notification

2344 Edn 5th September 1908 SDS

The question of raising the pay of Taluk and Village School asters to a minimum of Rs 10/- is one that has been engaging the attention of His Highness' Government for some time past It has been felt by them that good work could not be expected from School masters receiving less than a living wage- a wage less in many cases than that paid to menial servants It is their belief that the cause of primary education suffers more from the failure of the masters under the circumstances to give their best energies to their work than from inability or disinclination of the uneducated classes to educate their children

2 As a first step in the direction of improving the position of these

School Masters it was directed in Govt Proceedings No 2715-6/Fd 259-06-4 dated the 23rd September 1907 that the pay of all such teachers as were getting less than Rs 10 be raised by one rupee each with effect from the 1st October 1907, thus raising the minimum pay of teachers from Rs 7 to Rs 8 The extra cost involved by this arrangement was Rs 23,832/- (State Funds Rs 16,236/- and Village School Funds Rs 7,596/-)

3 The Government are now in a position on a consideration of ways and means to give full effect to the reform in question by raising the minimum pay of Taluk and Village School Masters once for all to Rs 10/ This will accordingly be done with effect from the 1st September 1908 This measure entails an additional cost of Rs 46,968 per annum the whole of which, in consideration of the low state of the
